20 September 2019

Dear Parents,

Many thanks to everyone for the kind words and support that we have received following yet more sad news. I have passed on your messages and cards to the families concerned.

Thank you to all the staff for their preparation and delivery of the Welcome Sessions. I have had very positive feedback on how helpful these have been to you all. Over the next few days the presentations will be available on the website for anyone who missed them.

The TSSSA AGM was very well attended on Monday evening. Many thanks to all the parents who are involved in the association. I am sending out my annual report along with this newsletter for your information. There will be a working party this weekend starting at 9am on Saturday morning. It would be great to see you there for all or part of the morning. The main jobs will be painting outdoor equipment, weeding and sweeping. Please bring equipment you think will be helpful.

Year 4 have contributed to the Poetry of Places website this week. Paul Farley, an award winning writer, is one of the founders of the project which aims for everyone to write about the places which are special to them. By following the link and clicking on Windsor you will be able to read the work of Year 4: <https://www.placesofpoetry.org.uk/>

There appears to be some confusion over the lunch menu. Caterlink have asked us to upload the current menu onto the Tucasi site so that the daily menu is clear. The menu is being uploaded this afternoon and will replace any other previous menus sent out. Please discuss the menu with your child and order options they will enjoy. Orders that have been made well in advance may need to be revisited to check that they are still relevant.

The Clewer Cluster has sent information on one of their weekend events. Please see the flier sent with this newsletter. Please see below for school dates for the Autumn Term.

Kind regards
